

SATs Timetable

When Monday arrives, several voices you will hear;
Full of words of wisdom aimed to help overcome any fear.
Be calm! Relax and concentrate! Remember to all do your best!
Don't worry about these bits of paper that combine to make a test!

Grammar, Punctuation and Spelling blast off and take the lead,
A wonderful beginning for you all to show you can succeed.
Where is that preposition? Which verb tense will be correct?
Think carefully about fine details – such questions you must respect.

Next up, comes the Reading quiz based upon a text or three,
How well do you deduce and infer? Find the odd word or phrase to copy?
Show a comprehension of the meaning, an ability to read between the lines,
Perhaps you can define the author's viewpoint or uncover clues from hidden signs.

By midweek, it is Arithmetic hard-tackling all your number sense
Fractions, integers and decimals; lengthy calculations - that can be tense.
Following on, there is Reasoning Part One that puts all the Maths down into words,
How much is it altogether? What is the difference between? Are we talking about quarters or thirds?

Celebration time! Yippee! One more challenge of problems to solve.
Ensure you maintain that peak of energy, despite your head beginning to revolve.
At last the week is over – that was swift - what on earth was all the worry?
Before you know it, you'll be at High School, but let us hope that that does not come in a hurry.
