

End of Year Report - Winston Churchill

This year has been amazing and I've improved dramatically in my writing; it's been tough but I have persevered through all the challenging work.

Curriculum Area	Attainment
English - Reading	Working Towards
To be even better: Winston needs to read more widely, particularly non-fiction books, in order to broaden his technical vocabulary, which will in turn develop and improve his writing. He would also benefit from working on the comprehension of what he is reading, as he has struggled at times with responding to questions about given texts. It would help him if an adult could question him about what he is reading after each time he is heard reading.

Well done Winston! I have been really impressed with your attitude this year both in classroom and in the committees you are involved with. You are a wonderful example for others to follow. I wish you the best of luck next year in Year 3.
